

Tax Exemption of Expanded HAP Benefits

- With the new bill that was signed by President Obama in November 2009 (HR 3548, Unemployment Compensation Extension Act of 2009), benefit payments under the Expanded HAP are not subject to taxation. Although HAP is exempt from Federal taxes, there may be state tax implications; if so, applicants should seek legal assistance. Read More
- Applicants who had taxes withheld prior to the law change should receive a W2c (corrected Wage and Tax Statement) from the IRS.
